

Short biography Jan Franzen

PhD Student

Studied Veterinary Medicine in Leipzig (Germany).

Since 2020, enrolled in the combined Residency (ECVP) / PhD Program. In my project I try to identify and characterize novel clostridial toxins that could play central roles in yet poorly investigated diseases such as hemorrhagic enteritis in different species.

In my free time, I like discovering the Swiss Alps with my Australian Shepherd named Rosa.